Our President. Barb Mancani

Welcome to All Saints School, where we bridge the gap between academic excellence and spiritual growth. As President of the Lake County Catholic School Network, I am proud to share that All Saints represents the very best of our mission: fostering an environment where students are not only challenged by a rigorous curriculum but are also anchored by the timeless values of the Gospel. Our school is more than just a place of learning; it is a family dedicated to nurturing the unique gifts of every child, ensuring they develop the intellect, character, and faith necessary to lead and serve in our dynamic world. We invite you to join our community and experience firsthand how an All Saints education prepares students for a lifetime of purpose and success.

The Pastor at St John Vianney Father Thomas W Johns

All Saints School was founded by my predecessor, Father Robert Kline, in 1977. He was very proud of the school, and he told me when he retired that the school was a great source of joy to him as a pastor. He taught religion classes weekly to the children and he enjoyed regularly celebrating Masses there, especially the ones Sr. Veronica prepared for him to celebrate. When I became pastor of the parish in 1998, Father Kline encouraged me to continue to support the school and to remain involved in the daily lives of the students and staff. Since that time, I too have enjoyed teaching religion to the children over the years and celebrating Masses with them. All Saints School has been a source of great joy to me and to the other pastoral staff members.

I enjoy interacting with the students, their families, our teachers, and the school staff members. People often comment how inviting and welcoming All Saints has been over the years. I agree whole-heartedly and I look forward to the time I am able to spend there each week. With Ohio EdChoice and the generosity of so many people who contribute to various scholarships such as the Angel Scholarship which assist families with the cost of tuition have made the choice of sending children to a Catholic school so much easier. Thank you for visiting our school and for considering All Saints School as a possible school for your children. Please be assured that we will take care of them should you choose to send them here, and we will do our best to provide them with a good Catholic education and a positive experience of a Catholic community where we live, love, and learn in Christ.

Our Principal. Katy Rankin

It is truly an honor to serve as the principal of All Saints School. From the moment I stepped into this role, I felt the warmth and sense of connection that make our school so special. All Saints is more than a place of learning. It is a family built on shared values, strong relationships, and a deep sense of belonging. I am grateful each day for our wonderful students, the support of our families, and the dedication of our faculty and staff.

My Catholic faith is central to who I am and guides both my personal and professional life. Compassion, love, and service are values I hold close, and I am thankful to be part of a community that lives these principles each day. At All Saints, faith is woven into daily life, shaping not only academic growth but also the hearts of our students. Watching them grow spiritually, care for one another, and live out their faith is one of the greatest joys of my role.

I look forward to continuing to foster an environment that nurtures both minds and souls. Through strong collaboration between families, teachers, and students, I am confident we can continue to make All Saints School a place where everyone feels supported, challenged, and truly at home.

Why Choose a Private, Catholic Education

The purpose of Catholic education is ultimately the formation of the human person, preparing young people with the knowledge and skills necessary for life and the values and virtues necessary for life everlasting.

A Catholic education invests in efforts to support an atmosphere in which the Gospel message is proclaimed, community in Christ is experienced, service to our sisters and brothers is the norm, and thanksgiving and worship of our God is cultivated.

Here are some benefits of a Catholic education:

- More Personalized Attention: Private, Catholic schools typically have smaller class sizes, leading to more individualized attention for students.
- Strengthened Academic Focus: Private, Catholic schools have higher standards and expectations for students with stronger academic focus.
- Specialized Programs and Better Extracurricular Activities: Private, Catholic schools provide music, art, drama, sports, and volunteering opportunities that are often not available in a public school.
- Focus on Values and Moral Compass: Catholic schools focus on values such as honesty, responsibility, and respect.
- Stronger Community: Catholic schools have a stronger sense of community and school spirit, which can help the student feel connected and supported. Students build lifelong friendships, as they have the same classmates from Preschool to 8th grade.

Faith

Nestled within the picturesque and college-like setting of the Center for Pastoral Leadership, All Saints School is not only blessed with a stunning physical environment but also the opportunity to engage in a special partnership with the seminarians who call this campus home. This distinctive relationship has become a cornerstone of our educational experience, providing us with a valuable edge over other schools.

The benefits of our location extend beyond the aesthetics of the campus. We have the privilege of having seminarians visit and actively contribute to the education of our students. These dedicated individuals bring a wealth of knowledge, passion, and a unique perspective to our classrooms. Their presence enriches our educational environment, offering our students insights into faith, service, and a deeper understanding of their Catholic identity.

The reciprocal nature of this relationship is truly remarkable. While our students benefit from the mentorship and teachings of the seminarians, the seminarians, in turn, gain valuable experience in engaging with the younger members of our faith community. It creates a symbiotic dynamic that fosters a sense of unity and shared purpose.

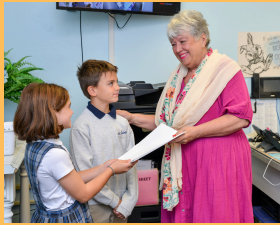

This partnership, combined with the serene surroundings of the Center for Pastoral Leadership, makes All Saints School a truly exceptional place of learning. Our students are not just receiving an education; they are immersed in an environment that nurtures both their academic and spiritual growth.

At All Saints School, we believe that each child has the ability to become the best version of themselves, given the proper guidance and foundation. At All Saints, we firmly believe that the success of our school is a collective effort, and parent involvement is at the heart of building a supportive and thriving environment. From smaller-scale functions like classroom parties, cafeteria helpers, and room parents, to larger-scale events such as our Annual Golf Outing and the Ladies Luncheon, there's a range of involvement options to suit your interests and schedule.

Becoming active with the All Saints School PTO is not only a great way to get involved, but also an excellent opportunity to learn more about our school community. It provides a platform for connecting with fellow parents, understanding the school culture, and actively participating in the educational journey of your child. Parent groups, like the PTO, play a crucial role in shaping the kind of supportive school environment where both students and teachers can thrive!

Future Leaders

Where Faith, Character, and Excellence Come Together

At All Saints School, our commitment extends far beyond academic excellence. We are dedicated to nurturing loving, productive citizens and future leaders who are prepared to make a meaningful difference in the world. Rooted in our Catholic faith, our school philosophy embraces the belief that each child is uniquely created by God and gifted with talents meant to be shared for the greater good.

Building Character and Citizenship

We take great pride in our holistic approach to education, where character development is just as important as academic achievement. At All Saints, students are guided to grow not only in knowledge but also in values such as compassion, responsibility, respect, and integrity. Through daily interactions, faith formation, and intentional learning experiences, our students develop the virtues that shape them into thoughtful, caring individuals.

Meaningful Community Connections

A powerful example of our commitment to service and relationship-building is our partnership with Prosper Life Care's Wickliffe Memory Care and Assisted Living Facility, located in the heart of the historic Wickliffe community. As part of their Studio 3:16 classroom enhancement course, our 7th and 8th grade students visit the residents once a month to build relationships, share stories, and bring joy through meaningful interaction. These visits allow students to develop empathy, respect for all generations, and a deeper understanding of the dignity of every person.

In addition, our students participate in a current events course where they engage in thoughtful discussions about what is happening in the world around them. These conversations encourage critical thinking, awareness, and a sense of responsibility to be informed, compassionate citizens who are ready to serve their communities.

A Commitment to Service and Giving Back

Service to others is a cornerstone of life at All Saints School. Our students actively participate in community service opportunities that allow them to share their time, talents, and compassion with those in need. Whether through organized service projects or everyday acts of kindness, students learn the importance of empathy, generosity, and living out their faith through action.

Excellence in Athletics and Teamwork

Athletics play an important role in developing well-rounded students. Our CYO sports program emphasizes teamwork, discipline, perseverance, and sportsmanship. Through participation in athletics, students build confidence, develop physical fitness, and learn valuable life skills that extend far beyond the playing field.

Developing Tomorrow's Leaders

At All Saints School, we believe every student has the potential to lead. Our classrooms and extracurricular activities provide opportunities for students to take on leadership roles, collaborate with peers, and build confidence. By encouraging responsibility and initiative, we help students grow into leaders who are prepared to serve their communities with faith and purpose.

Testimonials

"I love teaching at All Saints because of my ability to talk to the students about my faith and what an impact it has had on my life. The students love hearing personal stories from their teachers. The families at All Saints are supportive and relate well with the staff. I chose this school years ago to send my own sons to and chose to teach here after they were here."

Let us thank all those who teach in Catholic schools. Educating is an act of love; it is like giving life.
— Pope Francis

"The sense of community that is All Saints School started from the moment we made the choice to send our son to the school. It truly feels as if he's part of a family that cares for him and his educational, emotional, and faith-base growth. Instead of being one student in a school of many, the school is full of many who support and inspire our son to be the best he can be."

"You are braver than you believe, stronger than you seem and smarter than you think."
—A.A. Milne

"What was initially a decision based solely on the preschool program soon evolved into a deep-rooted appreciation for every facet of the school. I can't say enough about All Saints. The teachers and staff are incredibly dedicated, the curriculum is top-notch, and the sense of community is heartwarming. One of the aspects that truly stands out is the wide array of clubs and extracurricular activities offered by the school. It's amazing to see the countless opportunities for our child to explore their interests and passions outside of the classroom. They truly provide a wonderful educational environment and we look forward to both of our children graduating from All Saints!"

"We love All Saints! We have our fourth child attending All Saints, and our older three are now in college. All Saints provided them with the foundation they needed for high school and now college. But more importantly, it provided them with a spiritual foundation to have a closer relationship with God. They learned their Catholic faith, and that is the most important thing to us!"

"Sending our children to All Saints will forever be one of the greatest decisions we have made as a family. Our children are thriving. They are learning and growing personally, academically and spiritually. They are making meaningful friendships and bonds. They are loved and nurtured by faculty, staff and parent volunteers. As parents, we never have to worry about our children while they are at school. We know they are safe, happy and in good hands."

"We have been a part of All Saints School for over seven years and have two children enrolled. We are absolutely thrilled with everything the school has to offer! We appreciate the smaller class sizes so that our children receive a more individualized learning experience; this has helped our children thrive scholastically. Moreover, the school is more than just a place for a child to learn academics – they are focused on all aspects of a child's life. While following a great educational curriculum, simultaneously my children are learning how to become closer to God, how to be better friends, students and peers, and how to be helpful in their communities. These life skills are laying the foundation for a successful future for them when they move on to high school and beyond. In addition to this well-rounded approach to education, all the staff, including the principal, are very responsive, supportive, and collaborative. We are truly blessed to have found a place that is MORE than a school – it is a community. We are proud Wildcats!" – The Lott Family

"...because education truly forms human beings, it is especially the duty and responsibility of the Church, who is called to serve mankind from the heart of God and in such a way that no other institution can." – Pope Francis

"I am truly blessed to be teaching at All Saints School, where our rich Catholic identity is the cornerstone of our community. The warm and inviting atmosphere, fueled by dedicated teachers who infuse joy into learning, creates an environment where students thrive. The enthusiasm of our students makes coming to work each day a pure joy – they are excited to learn and actively engage in their education. The involvement of our pastor in guiding students through their religious education adds a unique dimension to our school community. With the advantage of small class sizes, our school ensures personalized attention for each child. The collaboration with supportive administration and parents further strengthens the sense of community, making All Saints School a truly exceptional place for both educational and faith development."

Testimonials

Our daughter has attended All Saints School since pre-school and will be graduating from the 8th grade this spring. All Saints has provided a wonderful faith based education for her and we have formed amazing relationships with the families, teachers, and leadership. We will miss our All Saints family but are fully prepared for our next educational adventure. It's truly an amazing school and we wish everyone the same experience we have had.

“The best way to predict your future is to create it.”
—Abraham Lincoln

What we love most about All Saints is the community! From the teachers, to the custodian, to all of the parents and children that make up our school— every single person understands our shared goal of creating a space that is nurturing, caring, and inspiring! We couldn't be more thankful for a school filled with such wonderful people.

We chose All Saints School because of the excellent treatment we received and the strong academic and Catholic education they offer. The security, supervision, and overall environment are outstanding, and their programs are excellent.

We are new to All Saints this year. We have 5 children and have always wanted a faith based school but with two of our older children being deaf we chose a hearing impaired school. With our youngest two we were able to look back into schools that aligned with our beliefs. As a family we toured and looked into multiple schools in the area. On our tour of All Saints we instantly knew this was the school for our family. Within three months into the school year, this decision was confirmed over and over again. The community at All Saints has been wonderful. My kids feel like they're part of a family not just a school. The amount of time all of the All Saints family has taken to make sure my kids have all the tools to succeed has been amazing. We went from a mom and dad scared about our kindergartner and third graders education to feeling confident in their path. I can't say enough good things about this school. A lot of families we know think about switching to faith based schools and we will be All Saints supporters!

Testimonials

We've been with All Saints for two years now, and we're very happy. Our son started without knowing any English since he only spoke Spanish, and his progress has been amazing. Of course, it also takes support at home, but the school has helped him grow so much.

All Saints is a place where our daughter has been loved, nurtured, and engaged in learning! We are so thankful to be part of this family and making the decision to send our child to All Saints is one of the best we have ever made!

First, I'd like to start by saying we are new to the school this year And are very happy we made the change to come to All Saints. This transition has been very easy and everybody has been very welcoming. My son has adapted very well and has nothing but good things to say every day when he comes home from school. Which is a big change. He comes home happy and he wakes up, ready and willing to go to school. He loves his teachers and all of his new friends. I can honestly say within the short period of time what a difference I have seen in my son and how happy we all are with this change. We look forward to the future with All Saints and all that it have to offer.

We have been a part of All Saints since our first son, Connor, was in Pre-K, and he is now in third grade. Since then, our other two children, Andrew (age 6) and Matthew (age 3) have also started at All Saints. We have absolutely loved the family-oriented community here. When I drop my kids off in the morning, I am relieved that they are surrounded by the love and support of the All Saints teachers and staff. All Saints provides an excellent education, while also teaching strong values of faith, friendship and community. We are grateful for this school, and it is such a blessing in our family.
